

- ✓ Personal or professional experience with breast or lung cancer?
- ✓ Care about reducing cancer disparities in your community?
- ✓ Want to collaborate with others to create new solutions?

Apply to participate in collaborative cancer work groups here!

CUPH
Center for Urban Population Health
*Data-driven. Evidence-based.
Community-engaged.*

Great Lakes Inter-Tribal Council, Inc.
Lac du Flambeau, Wisconsin

eliminating racism empowering women
ywca
Southeast Wisconsin

- *Community Members
- *Breast & lung cancer survivors
- *Physicians, HC providers
- *Community-based organization representatives
- *Academics, researchers
- ... who know or work in cancer

- *Regular meetings
- *Explore & focus on a topic in breast / lung cancer
- *Look at data
- *Create relationships
- *Design meaningful community solutions
- *Receive compensation at $40.82/hour

- * Duration: June 2022 – June 2023
- *In-person or virtual
- *Need computer, web cam, internet – if a problem, we can help!
- *Hosted by GLITC, YWCA, or WWHF
- Apply by June 17, 2022

CWGs will design new solutions to reduce the burden of cancer and improve health in Wisconsin communities.

Initiative Overview

What	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Participate with diverse community and academic perspectives to develop and implement integrated approaches to address breast and lung cancer disparities in communities in Wisconsin • Join the collaborative effort coordinated by Staci Young, PhD (Medical College of Wisconsin) and David Frazer, MPH (Center for Urban Population Health) and led by community organizations • Focus efforts and impacts a topic to reduce breast and/or lung cancer disparities • Meet regularly to contribute your experience and expertise • Receive compensation in the amount of $40.82/hour for time spent participating in group meetings
Why	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Understand the data that reveal disparities in breast and lung cancer in our state • Create space for fair and trusting relationships to develop between community members and researchers in a transdisciplinary collaboration • Design a solution that will lead to meaningful health impact in your community
Who	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Community members, survivors, physicians, health care providers, community-based organizations, researchers with experience and/or expertise in cancer
When	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Start: June 2022, End: June 2023 • Apply by June 17, 2022 by following this link
Where	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Meet in-person and/or virtual (determined by each participating organization's COVID-19 guidelines) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Great Lakes Inter-Tribal Council, Inc. (Lac du Flambeau, Lac Courte Oreilles, and Menominee) ○ Wisconsin Women's Health Foundation (Milwaukee, Walworth) ○ YWCA Southeast Wisconsin (Milwaukee, Racine) • Connect: CWG members will need access to a computer, internet, and web camera. Please contact us to discuss any technology barriers that may impact your ability to participate

For more information, visit the CWG website

Or

Contact Wisconsin Women's Health Foundation CWG Team:

Felicia Fairfield

ffairfield@wwhf.org

414-209-2181

Claire Piehowski

cpiehowski@wwhf.org

414-435-8023

This initiative is funded by:

